Man does not create the Divine Love
Helen Padgett – January 9, 1915

He does not grasp the true principle of that love.

He is depending upon a love that man can create by what he calls right thinking and action – but this is not true.

Man cannot of himself create this love.

He can let it come into his heart and grow and thereby become more possessed with it; but it will not come of his own creation.

His heart is not in such a condition that this love will spring up spontaneously, nor can he by his mere effort to create it, cause its appearance.

He can obtain it only from a higher source, and that source is his Heavenly Father.

No man is so good that this love can emanate from him any-more than life can arise of his own volition or efforts.

What is the love principle, as it is called, is not the natural love of a man for God or for man, but the love that comes into the heart of a man from the Father in answer to prayer.
