Man has free will to reject the love of God
Ann Rollins – December 12, 1914

Keep praying, for that is the one great means to receive the love of God.

Without prayer men cannot reach the answering ear of the Father's grace.

He will hear the penitent only, for He will not accept anyone who is not truly and earnestly seeking Him.

Man has a will to either accept or reject the love of God, and until he exercises his will in a way to show that he wants that love, it will not be given him.

No man is ever forced to love God or to let God's love come into his heart ...

The love of God cannot be defined, for it passes all understanding, but the result of that love, when in the souls of men, can be seen and felt, in the exceeding beauty in the countenances of men, and in their wonderful happiness.

No fear of death or anything that makes afraid can possibly exist where this love is. It is not the love that permits any feelings of jealousy or envy to have an entrance, but is so perfect and all soul-filling that there cannot possibly be any room for anything but its own great self. I know that the love of God is the only thing that can make man supremely happy while on earth, and after he becomes a spirit ...

My love for Him is such that I love every one of His creatures, be they saints or sinners. And that is the difference between the love that He inspires in His children, and the love that exists among men and spirits, which has not His love for its foundation.
